

Gender Equality Index and social power

Conference // 11 October 2017, Brussels

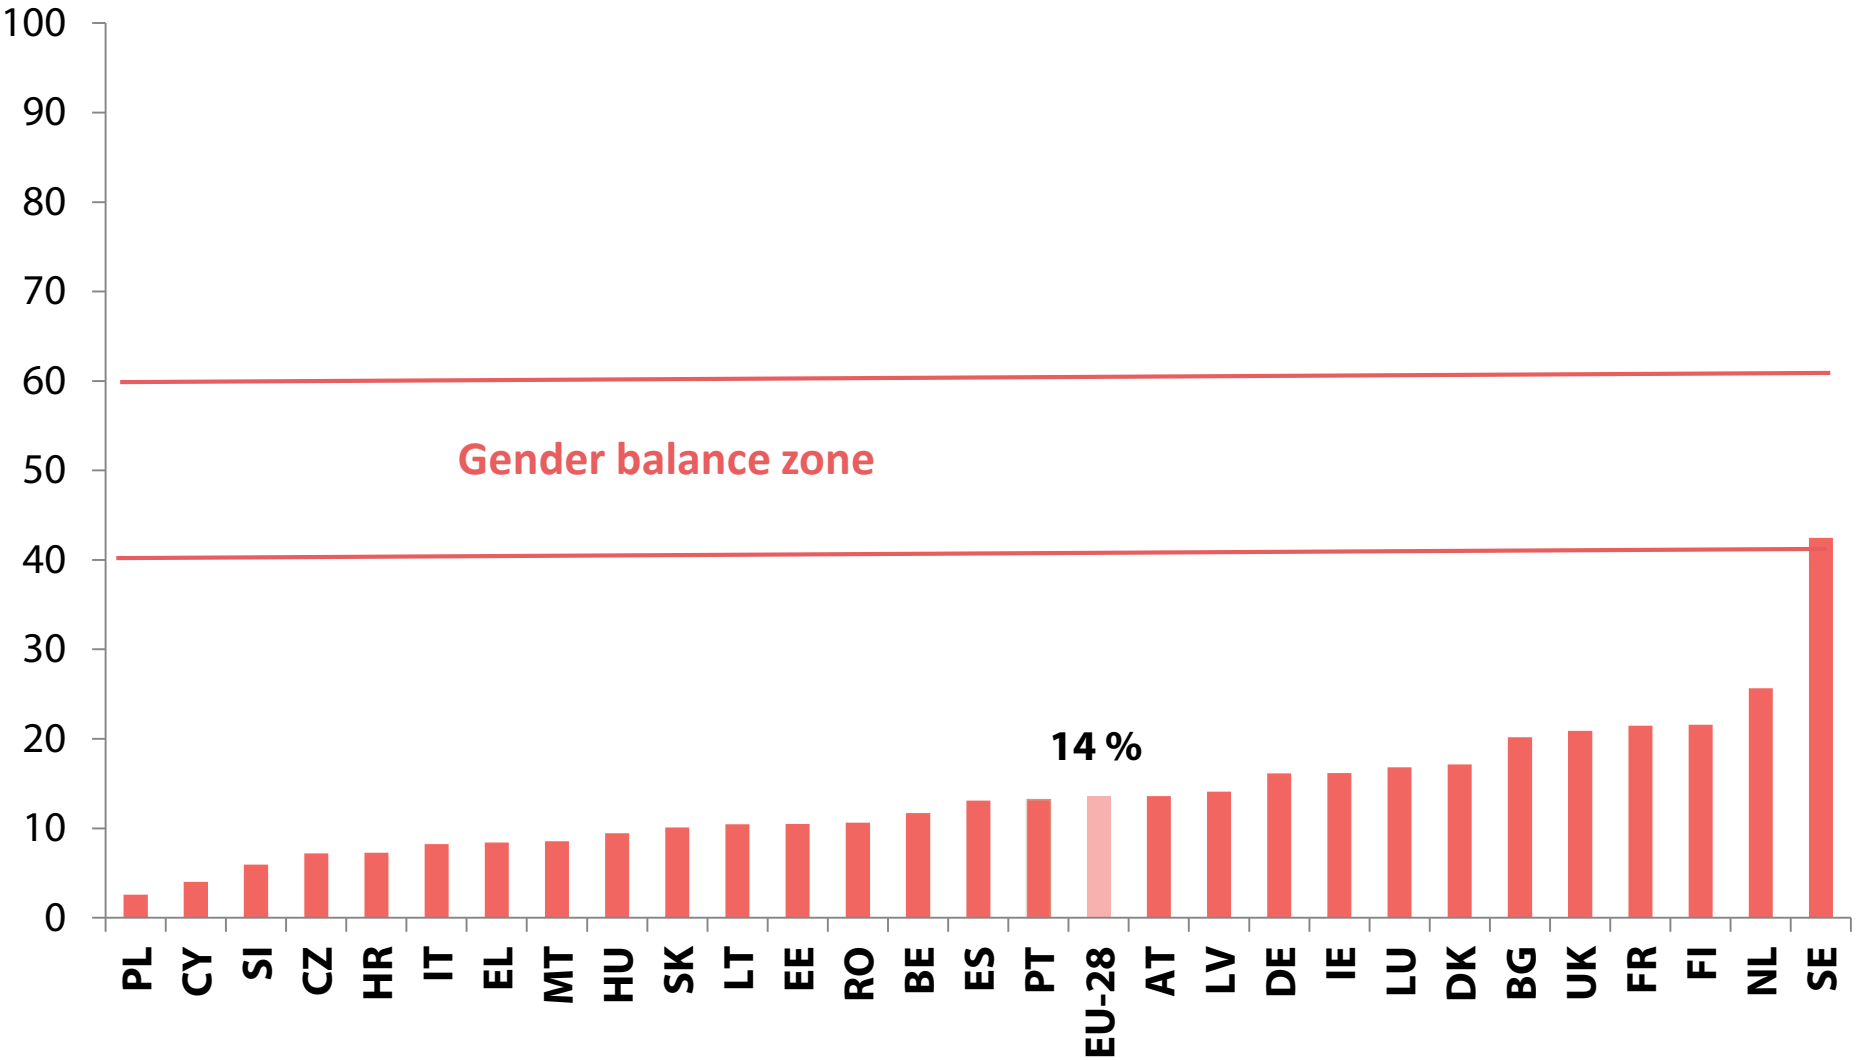

Domain of power

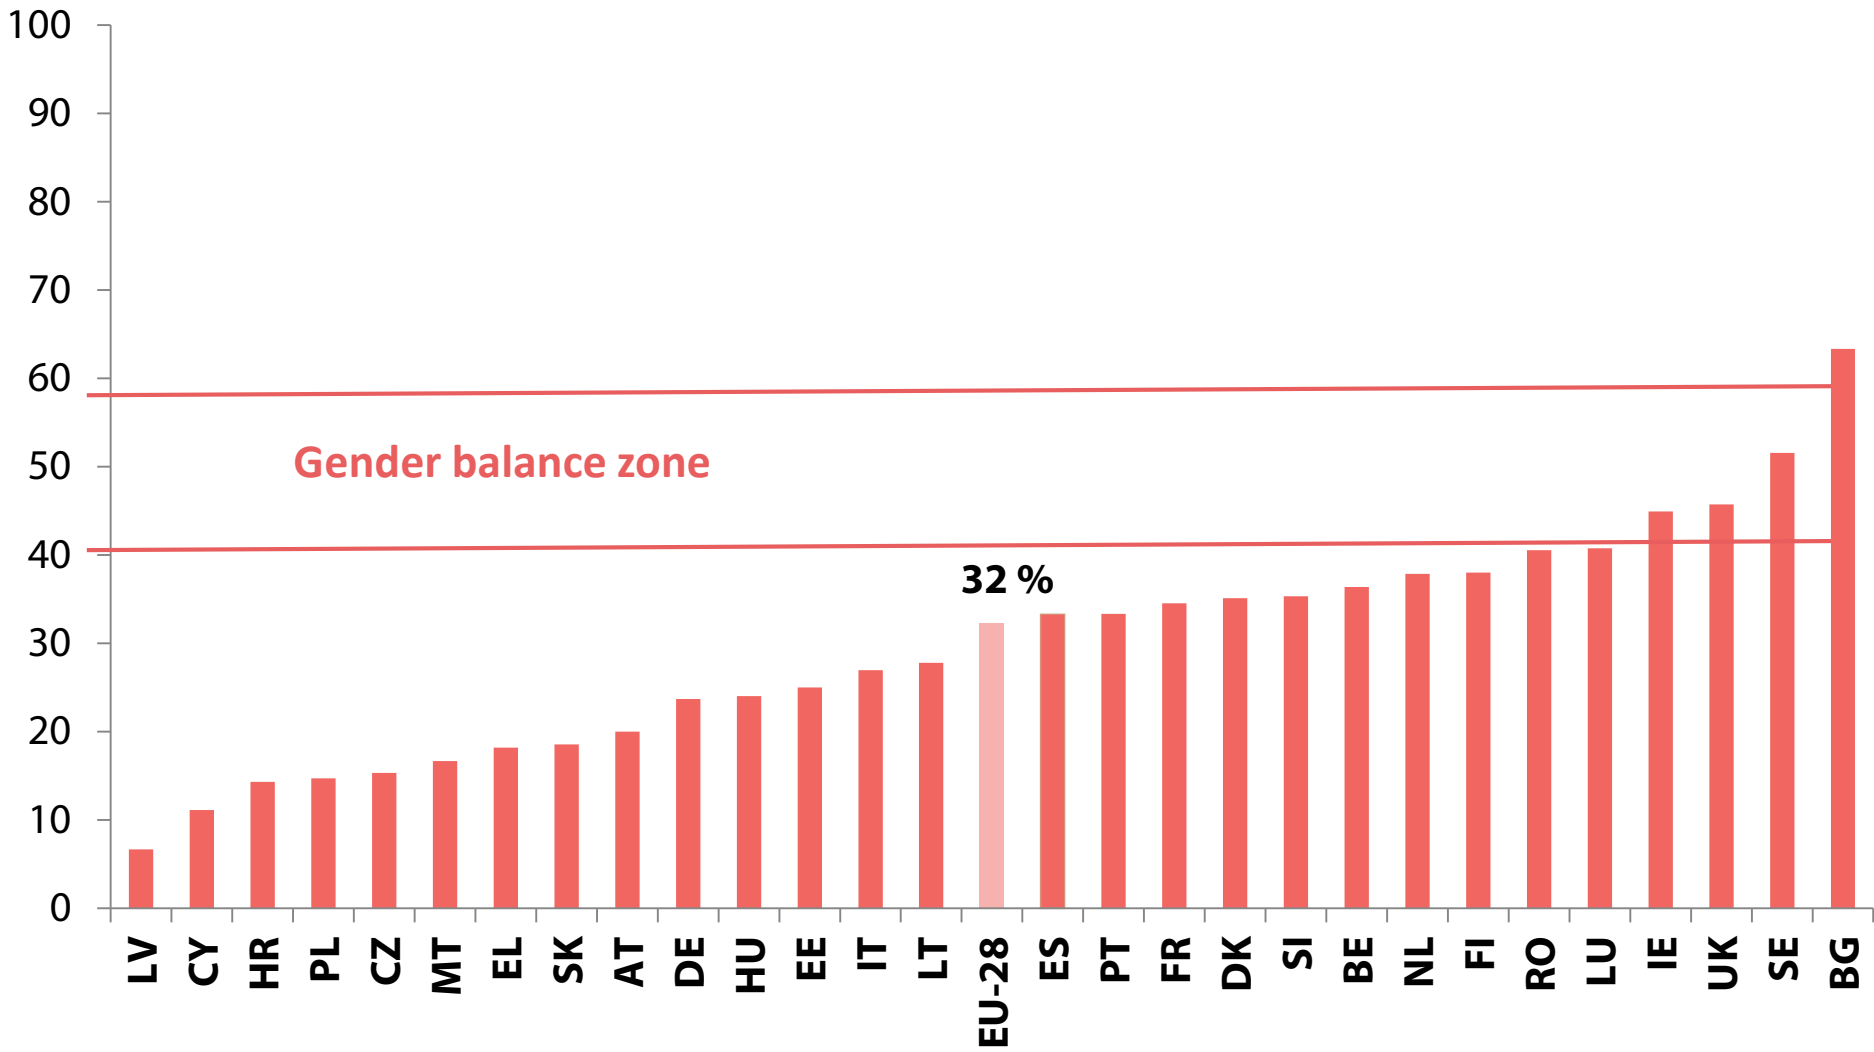

Women are sidelined in the sports world

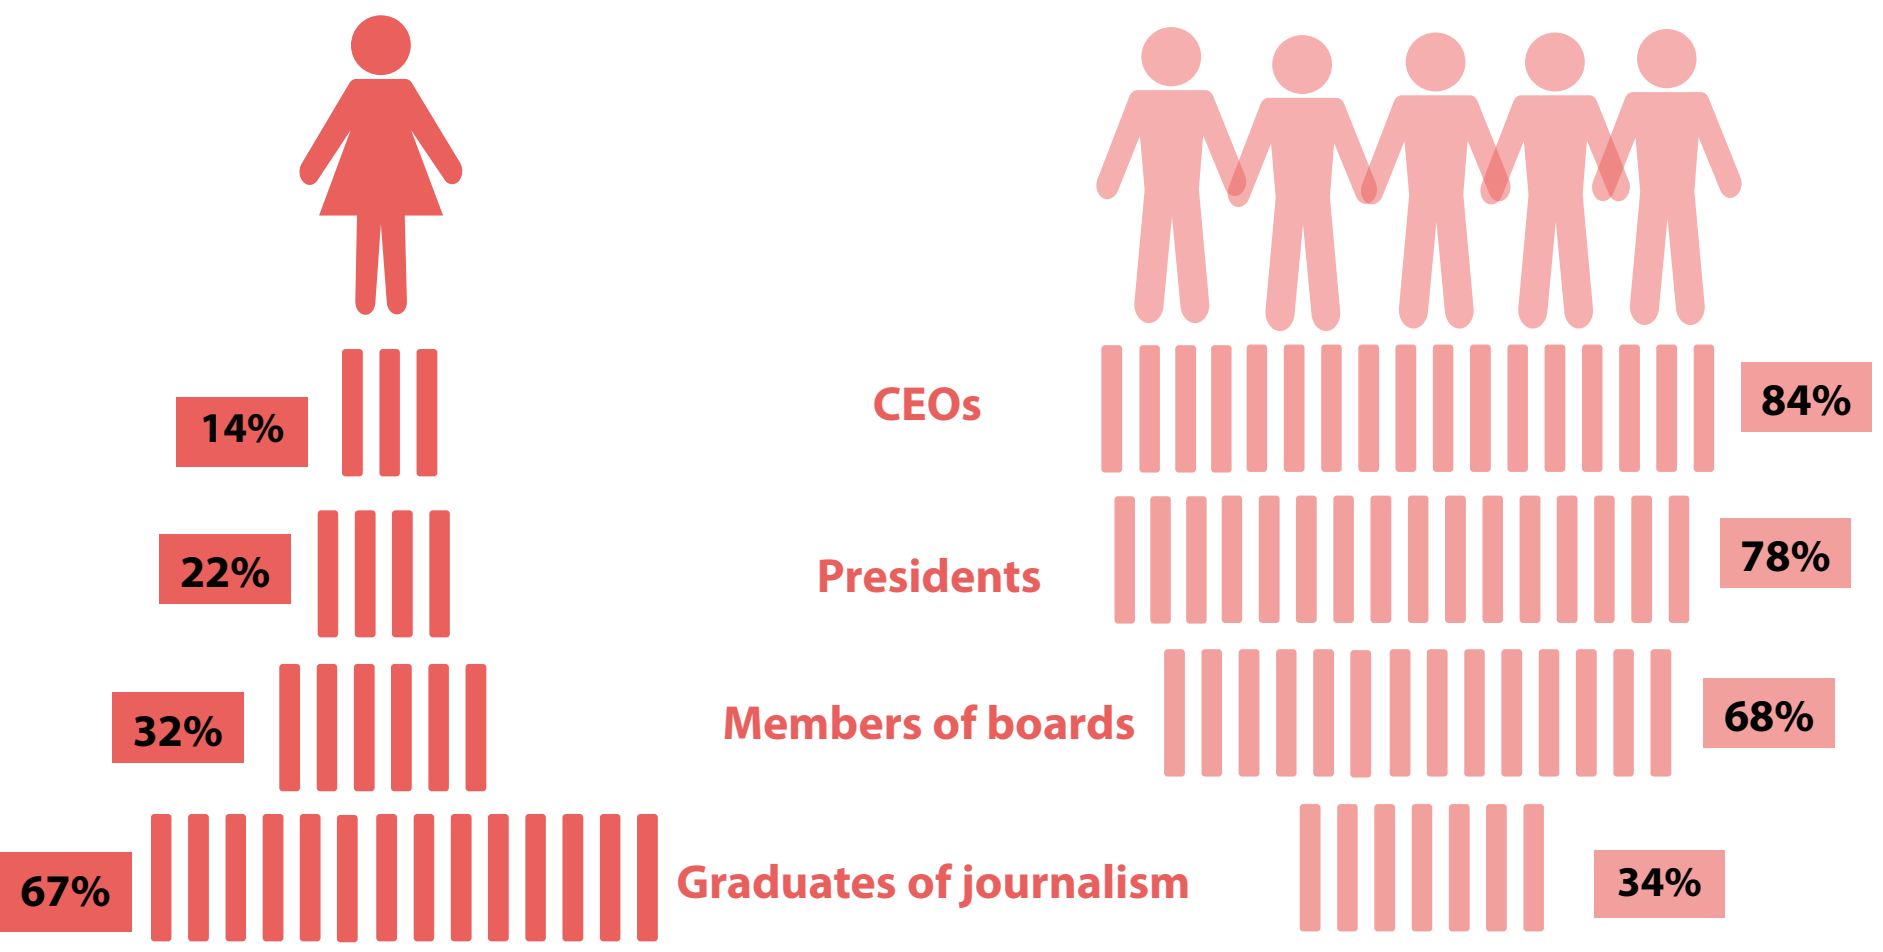

Gender imbalance is still common across the EU media

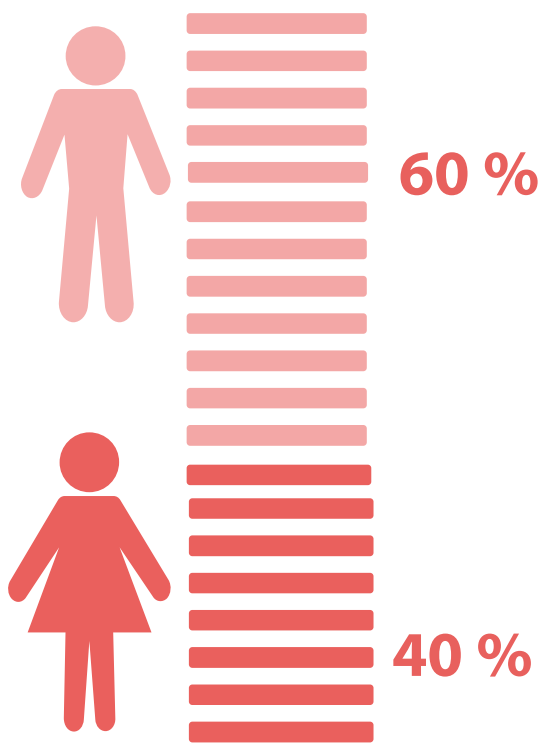

Pyramids of power in media

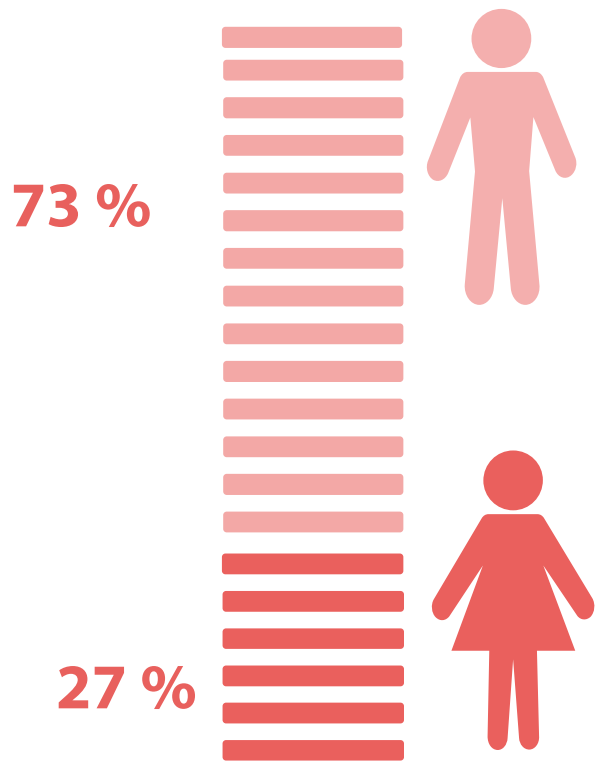

Men control research funding

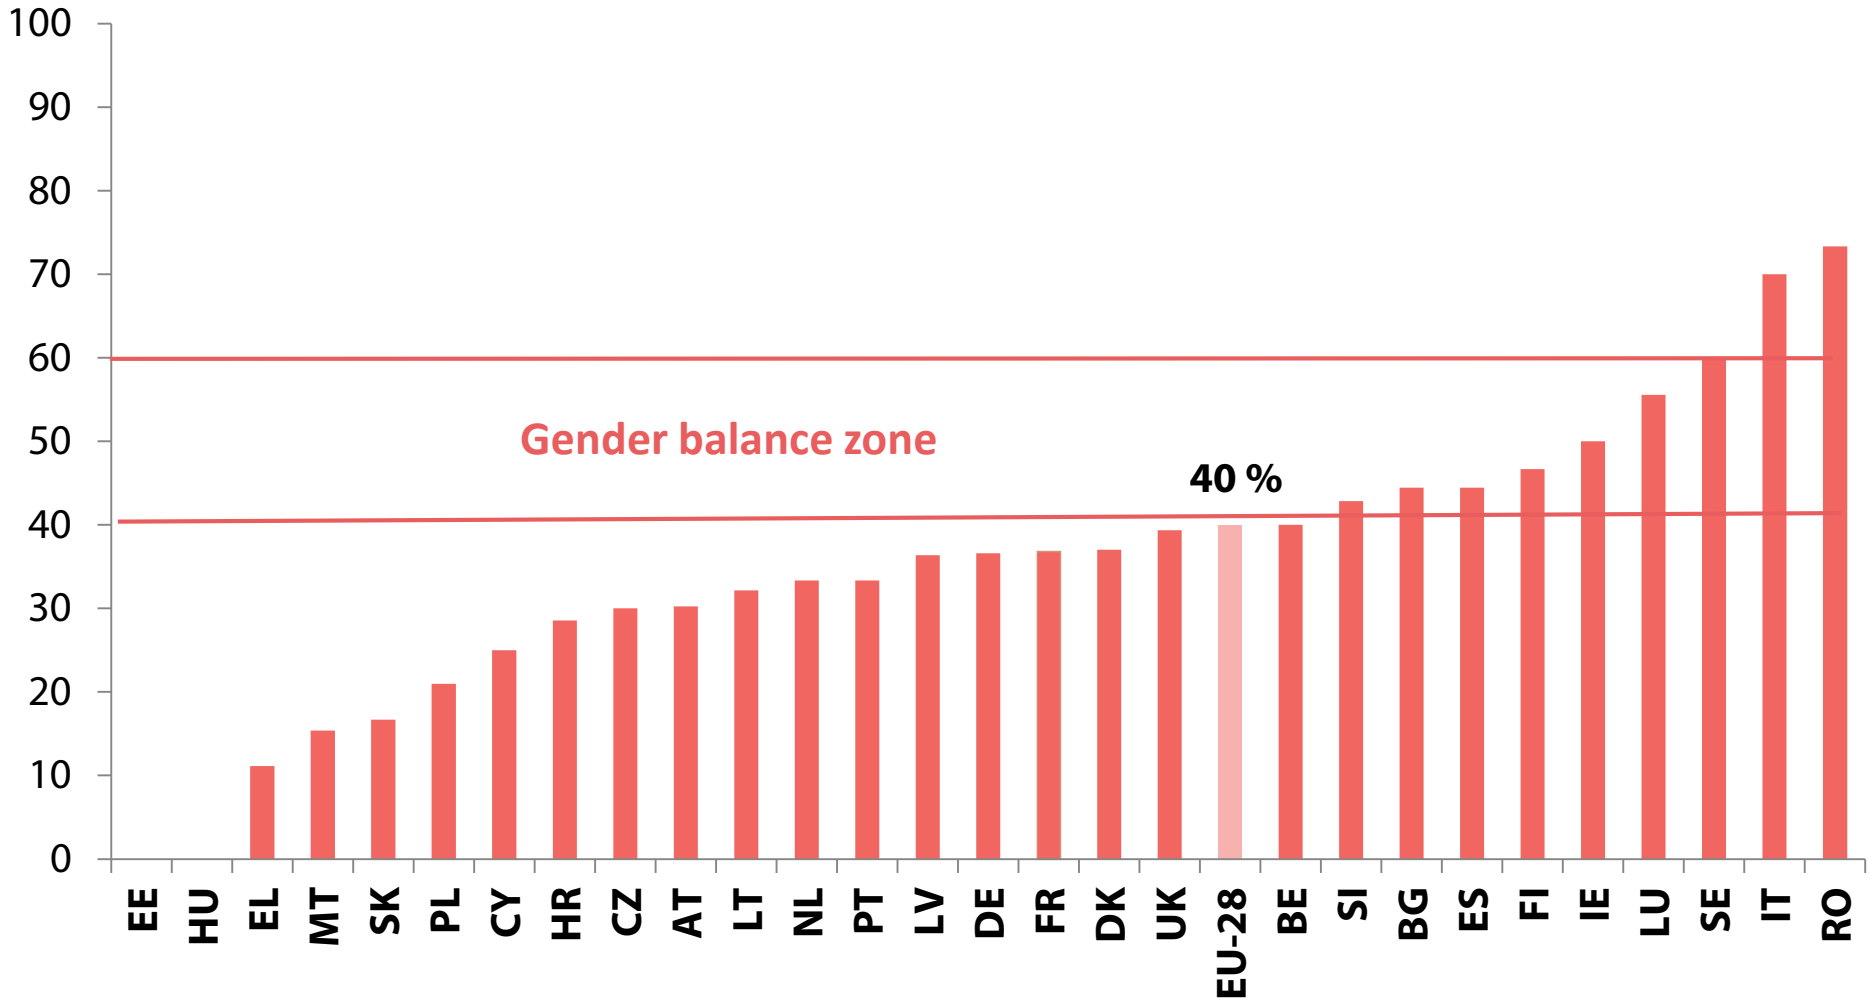

Members of boards

Presidents

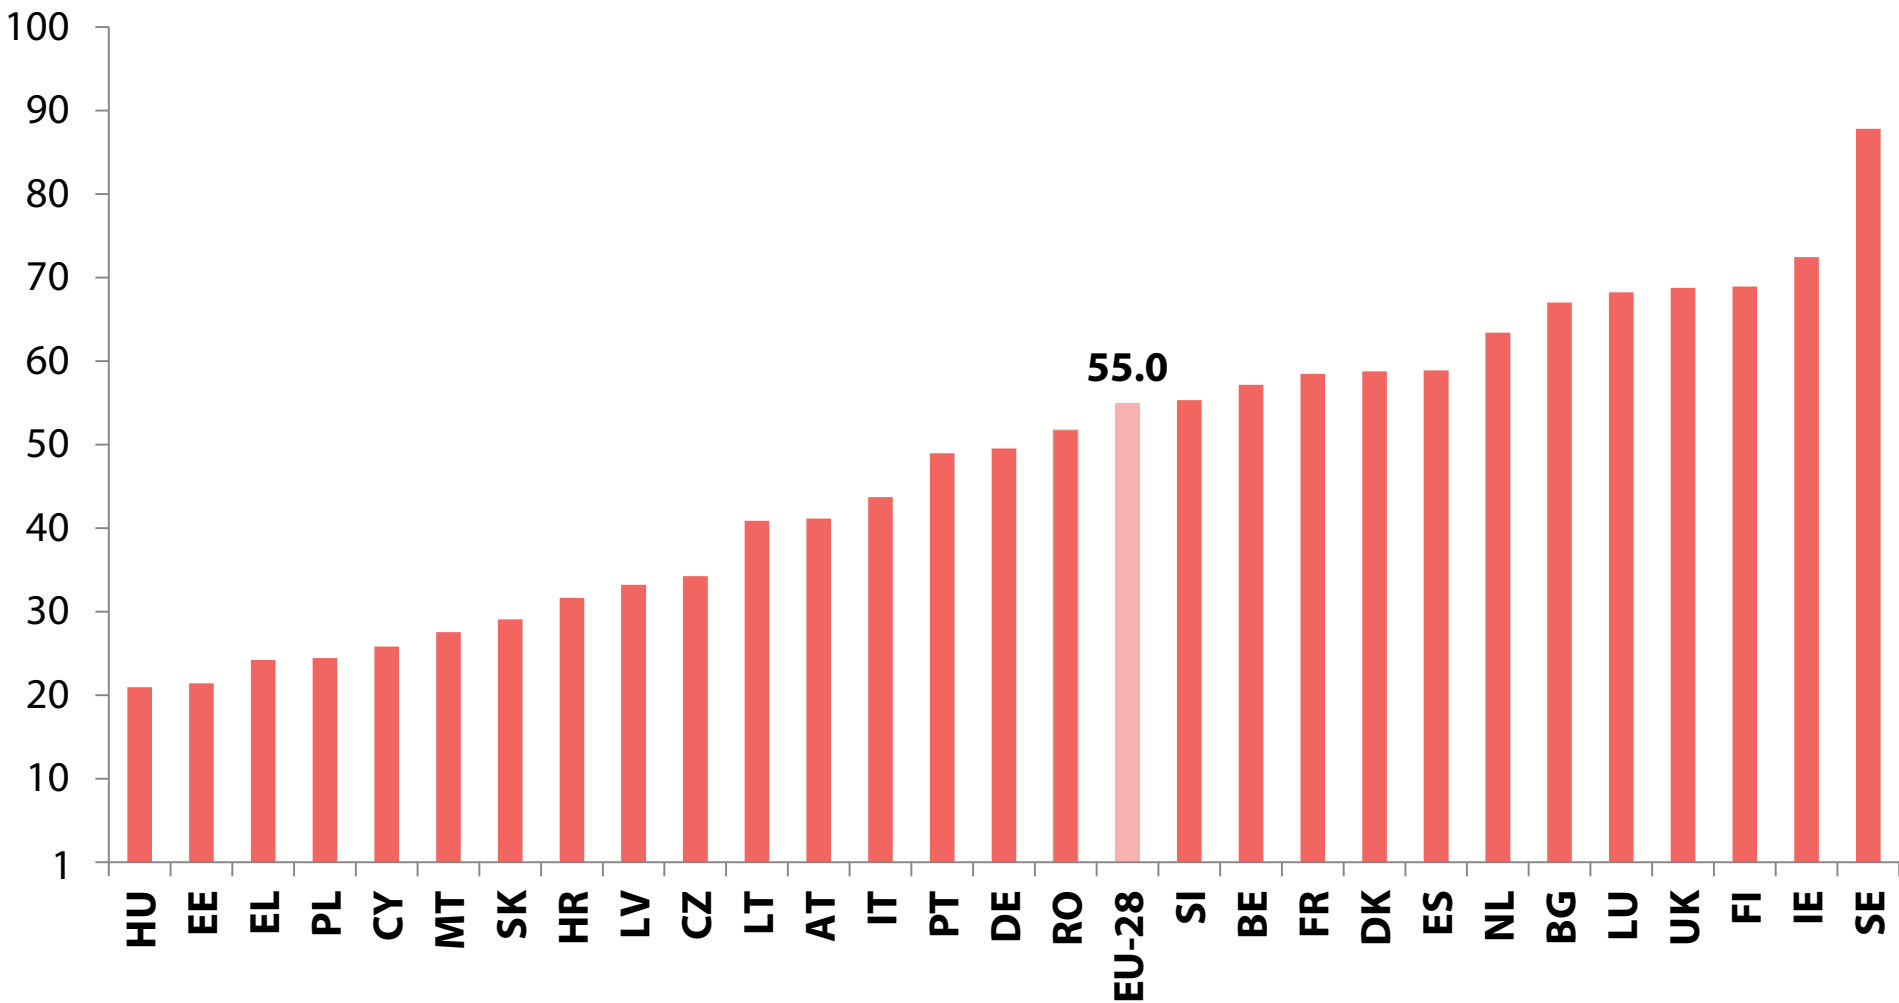

Room for improvement for many Member States

Scores of the sub-domain of social power

Men take decisions in research funding, media and sports

The evidence from political and economic decision-making shows that change is possible.

Public debate and policy initiatives on gender equality in decision-making should be extended to research, media and sports.

Monitoring change in social decision-making calls for higher quality data at EU level.
